

Alexandra Conlon

Counsel

+1212 540 0677
Aconlon@shertremonte.com

Education

Boston University School of Law, J.D., 2014
Magna Cum Laude; Dean's Award for Civil Rights Litigation, Boston University School of Law; Edward F. Hennessy Distinguished Scholar, Boston University School of Law;
Dean's Public Interest Scholarship
Grinnell College, B.A. 2009

Admissions

New York
U.S. District Courts for the Eastern and Southern Districts of New York

Clerkships

Hon. Nina R. Morrison, U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of New York

Alex is an experienced trial attorney with a strong record of courtroom success. She achieves favorable outcomes for her clients in high-stakes civil and criminal cases in both federal and state courts in New York and nationwide.

Alex's practice focuses on white collar criminal defense, government and internal investigations, and complex civil litigation. She represents individual and corporate clients across a wide variety of industries in criminal and regulatory investigations conducted by the Department of Justice, Securities and Exchange Commission, Commodities Futures Trading Commission, and other federal, state and international regulators and law enforcement agencies. Alex has represented clients on matters concerning alleged market manipulation, securities and commodities fraud, health care fraud, mail and wire fraud, corruption, money laundering, insider trading and related offenses.

Alex is also experienced in plaintiff-side matters. She has obtained favorable jury verdicts and settlements for clients in a diverse array of matters, including lawsuits based on violations of the False Claims Act, civil rights violations, unlawful employment practices, and sexual misconduct.

Alexandra Conlon

Counsel

+1212 540 0677
Aconlon@shertremonte.com

Experience

Won a rare acquittal in a market manipulation prosecution in federal court: Alex was a key member of the trial team in U.S. v. Robert Bogucki (N.D. Cal.), which the Global Investigations Review recognized as the “Most Important Case of the Year.” Alex’s client, Robert Bogucki, was accused of engaging in a $6 billion fraudulent scheme “front-running” scheme to manipulate the foreign exchange options market. Alex helped win a full acquittal for her client from the presiding judge under Rule 29 (at the close of the government’s case, before the case was left to the jury) by persuading the court that no reasonable juror could find her client guilty.

Won a $26M verdict in a historic federal civil rights lawsuit: Alex was one of the lead associates in Sines v. Kessler, a lawsuit brought on behalf of ten plaintiffs against dozens of neo-Nazis and white supremacists who conspired to commit racially-motivated violence in Charlottesville, Virginia in August 2017. After a four-week jury trial, during which Alex presented testimony from multiple plaintiffs, Alex helped win a $26 million judgment. The case was covered extensively in the news and featured in the Emmy-nominated HBO documentary “No Accident.”

Successfully obtained a significant settlement under the False Claims Act on behalf of a whistleblower: Alex represented a researcher who discovered that the head of his department at an educational institution was grossly misusing federal research grant funds. Alex filed a lawsuit, prompting the Department of Justice to intervene, resulting in a substantial settlement with the educational institution and her client’s department head.

Won dismissal of murder charge against victim of domestic violence: Alex was part of the pro bono legal team that helped obtain a dismissal for Tracy McCarter, a nurse who was wrongfully charged with her husband’s murder. After extensive investigation and advocacy, Alex helped persuade the Manhattan District Attorney’s Office that Ms. McCarter acted in self-defense on the night of her husband’s death and that the charges against her should be dismissed.

Recognitions

2021 New York Metro Rising Stars, Super Lawyers
2021 Top Women Attorneys in New York, Super Lawyers

Alexandra Conlon

Counsel

+1212 540 0677
Aconlon@shertremonte.com

Affiliations

Federal Bar Council
New York City Bar Association
Leadership Council on Legal Diversity, Pathfinder Program Alumnus

News and Publications

Presenter, "The Charlottesville Case: How to Sue Nazis and Win" – Harvard Law School Association, 2022
Guest Lecturer, "White-Collar Criminal Defense" course – Yale Law School, 2019-2023