Kevin provides support to the firm's various legal teams in a wide range of practice areas.

Formerly a policy analyst and a writer for his undergraduate law review, Kevin is particularly interested in the intersection of the law, legal history, and policy outcomes. With this background, Kevin provides a robust blend of pragmatic problem-solving and analytical research skills to the Firm and its clients.

Previously, Kevin interned at the Southeast Louisiana Legal Services where he assisted residents of his hometown community with their SSI/SSDI and VA pension benefits applications. He has also interned at the UK Parliament and the National Coalition for the Homeless.
