Education

Georgetown University, B.A., 2022,
Dean's List

Pilar diligently supports legal teams in administrative manners as well as conducts research and analysis on a broad range of cases.

As a former intern for the state government of Puerto Rico, Pilar understands the importance of working efficiently and meticulously in matters of the law. During her time there, she developed weekly briefs and memorandums concerning the territory's legislation. Pilar also used her strong interpersonal skills to engage with constituents.

As a paralegal, Pilar works closely with the firm's attorneys to ensure that clients are well represented. Pilar often provides translation services on cases, and serves as the nexus between clients and attorneys.
