Vincent provides substantive support to legal teams in areas ranging from complex commercial litigation to high-profile criminal defense.

Vincent analyzes and investigates pertinent information; communicates with third-party agencies to provide effective document translation; and prepares materials for use in depositions and other court proceedings. His devotion to his work is evidenced by his desire to proactively assist his teams in any way possible. By using his natural curiosity and attention to detail to pursue a greater understanding of his role as a paralegal, he hopes to expand his knowledge of the legal field.
